Renewd quality control process

Renewd devices are refurbished by a certified Apple Premium Service Provider. They pass a strict and extensive quality control which is crucial to guarantee the premium quality. The first step is a manually executed cosmetic check of the in- and outside. Next up is activating the devices and running a technical check in which parts like the speakers and the screen are checked. Finally, the devices are connected to official Apple software that checks on 83 critical points, what we like to call the ultimate test. As icing on the cake, all devices are updated to the latest possible software, are thoroughly cleaned, charged and placed in our sustainable packaging.
